

AGRICULTURAL.

RECLAIMING WORK ON LAND.
This can be done, we verily believe, in many instances, with less labour & expense than clearing; & yet there are many farmers who treat the idea as vain and visionary. Last fall, when some of our neighbors saw us hauling rich dirt from the deposits on the sides of branches, and leaves and trash from the woods, and spreading the same upon a piece of exhausted old field; and then turning it over with a two horse team, followed with a coultter running into the subsoil, laughed heartily at our folly; but now we have the pleasure of showing them on this very same piece of old field, thus only partially improved, (for we had not time to give half a dressing,) a respectable field of corn, with a luxuriant growth of peas.

We present below, for the encouragement of those who are disposed to attempt this kind of improvement, two or three cases, which we have gathered from our exchange papers.

Mr. George Latshaw, from Pennsylvania, took an old worn out farm near Winchester, Va., which had not in ten years produced an average exceeding six bushels of corn per acre. Mr. L. began by mowing down the briars and thistles, ploughing the land 8 inches deep. The neighbors told him he could not produce anything, but his labor was rewarded by a yield of 35 bushels Corn to the acre. This he attributes to the deep ploughing and careful cultivation. A pretty good commencement it must be allowed.

Mr. Latshaw then ploughed his Wheat ground in the months of July and August, eight inches deep, giving it the second ploughing about the middle of September, and harrowing in his seed. This method of working the land gave it body and moisture—and upon 70 acres, thus tilled, he has averaged 20 bushels of Wheat to the acre. By deep ploughing, and cultivation in the early part of the season, the troublesome crop of briars and thistles has been entirely removed, and the extraordinary result has been attained—and this without clover or manure.

Another—A farmer in Baltimore county, Maryland, took in hand a field so poor that it would not raise a fine species of grass, known as well in North Carolina as Maryland, as the only thing that will grow on our most completely exhausted lands, called dog's hair. Other engagements prevented his beginning upon it in the fall, as he should have done. He describes his method of managing it and the result as follows: "After having it ploughed, harrowed and rolled in March, I had it cross-ploughed, harrowed twice and rolled in April; marked off in checks 3 ft. by 4 ft.—widest spaces running north and south, or nearly so—hailed out two hundred one horse cart loads of wood-pile stuff; and sand and mortar, from an old wall, composted, about equal parts, putting two shovels full in each hill. Now the soil naturally, is what we term a white oak, clay bottom, with a few traces of iron ore in places—a stiff unmanageable soil if ploughed when wet, and impossible to be worked when dry.

The season, you will remember, was very dry, notwithstanding this, after the hoeing, I ordered the cultivator to be passed through it both directions, until countermanded—I was assured by all the old hands, "It'll all fire sir." I persisted, however; laid it all up about the 21st July, with a small one horse plough, ploughing about four inches deep; cultivated it down level again; cut it off down to the ground on the 15th September, and hauled off, to shock, a fair yield of heavy corn. The next day I put in a Wiley, 56, plough; (a good implement where there is no sod;) cross ploughing the land spring furrow, and follow it with a Sinclair & Co. No. 8, subsoil plough, obtaining by this a depth of sixteen inches; nine of old and seven of new soil—the subsoil retained its original bed, but pulverised and lightened up, so that an addition of some inches to the general surface was apparent, besides securing a deposit for the absorption of all surplus moisture, if a wet, or in a dry season a reservoir of water to be evaporated by the sun, through the pores of the superstratum of old earth; thus gradually incorporating the whole mass—which is completed by a deep ploughing with the ordinary plough, when next broken up—and nourishing the crop. But, to return, having finished ploughing and harrowing, it was sowed in wheat on the 21st September, the soil appearing to be mellow, finely pulverised loam—the rain falling in torrents, before we finished, prevented the lands from being opened, the water, furrows, marked off or being rolled in; yet we succeeded in getting the timothy seed sown, depending upon the rain to set it. The ground began to clog and betray symptoms of the "old heaven"—nor did it dry till the April following—one acre was harrowed in with 100 bushels of old leached ashes, two acres were broadcast with the same quantity, one in February, while frozen, and one in April; the other (there being four in all,) remained unaided—25 bushels, the first yield; 15 the second; 20 the third, and about 14 the fourth; now threshed and measured.

The timothy, now looks green amid the stubble, and stands so thickly that, I think, "ill weeds" dare not grow in its place; and promises a fair swarth of lucifer, for cure for cancer.

It is said that yolk of an egg, mixed with salt as long as it will receive it, and applied as a salve to a cancer twice a day, has been tried with beneficial results.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE "CONGRESSIONAL UNION" AND "APPENDIX," &c.

THE UNDERSIGNED respectfully inform the public, that, with the commencement of the approaching session of Congress, they will begin the publication of the "Congressional Union" and "Appendix." The first will contain a full and accurate history of the daily proceedings of both branches of the national legislature. It will be compiled with such care, that every citizen who is interested in the public affairs will find it a complete synopsis of their proceedings, and a ready book of reference upon all questions which come before them.

The second, (the "Appendix") will contain every speech which is delivered in the House of Representatives and Senate during the session, reported at length by a full and able corps of congressional reporters, and revised before publication by the authors, whenever it is requested. These two works will be strictly impartial, and are intended to be as interesting and useful to the man of business, and to the politician of the one party as the other.

It may be said, without exaggeration, that the next session of Congress is destined to be one of the most important which has taken place since the foundation of the government. It is the long session. It is the session which will develop the general plan of the present administration. Its measures will stamp the character of our institutions for years to come. Some of the most important questions which are connected with our foreign relations, or our domestic concerns, will be presented for their consideration. The final measure of ratifying the constitution of Texas, which is to consummate her admission into our Union, and the admission of her members into our public councils—every measure which affects the Oregon question—our relations with Mexico—as well as the final decision on the revived Zoll-Verein treaty,—these, and other measures which are more or less connected with our foreign relations, will come under the review of the approaching Congress. Most of the eminently important questions which relate to our internal concerns—the revision of the constitution—the adoption of the best mode for preserving the public moneys—a variety of commercial measures—perhaps the best system for regulating the important interests of Texas—the Indian questions—the land question—the best system for our navy,—these and others will constitute a mass of business which is calculated to command much of the time of Congress, and much of the attention of the people. They will all be reported by the "Congressional Union."

The Daily, Semi-Weekly, and Weekly Union, will, as usual, embrace an interesting variety of matter on political, scientific, and literary subjects, along with the current news of the day. The editor will continue to devote all his energies to the improvement of "The Union." He finds many accomplished men in this city. The administration has brought with it a considerable accession of talents. Several tried and distinguished members of the Democratic party have accepted of office under it. Some of them have liberally contributed their literary labors to our benefit; and we hope to enlist others in our service. Besides, the time is not far distant when the editor intends to call other talents to his assistance. His ambition is, to make his paper worthy of the metropolis of the Union. He is persuaded that, with the facilities which his position enables him to employ; with the official and other materials placed within his reach; and with the aid of the correspondence which he is attempting to establish in foreign countries, a paper may be published, which is not unworthy of the support of his country. In undertaking the task, he knows he has many difficulties to overcome, many lessons to learn, many sacrifices to encounter. He knew that, amid the arduous cares of a new theatre, he could not at first do justice even to himself; but his zeal has never flagged. What enthusiasm and industry can never effect, will be fully accomplished. Some errors he may have fully committed. But upon one point, he can speak with great pleasure and with equal freedom. The men who are administering this government are working men, anxious, as he believes, to do their duty, to serve their country, to carry out the pledges under which the President was elected, and the great principles of the party. So long as the administration is conducted in this spirit, and upon these principles, he is prepared to cooperate with them in the public service; and to give them, as he proposed in his prospectus, a "fair, liberal, and efficient support."

We feel a deep sense of gratitude for the prompt manner in which our political friends, in every section of the country, have already come forward to sustain the "Union." May we not hope that our friends throughout the United States will continue to assist our labors, and prevail upon their friends to take some edition of the "Union?"

As this will be the long session of Congress, and will probably last eight months, we have concluded to publish the CONGRESSIONAL UNION and APPENDIX on the following

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.
It may truly be said, that no one has ever been so successful in compounding a medicine, which has done so much to relieve the human family, to health and comfort, as the Inventor and Proprietor, that most deservedly popular family medicine, Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and none has been so generally patronized by the Profession and others, both in this country and in Europe, nor has there ever been so great an effort in the short space of six or seven years, to deceive the credulous and unthinking, by putting up Nostrums of various kinds, by various individuals, affixing the name of Wild Cherry, and as much of the name of the original preparation as will screen them from the lash of the law, and one of the impostors who puts out the common paragon of the shops and calls it the Balsam of Wild Cherry, has had the impudence to caution the public against the original preparation, Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which is doing so much good in the world.

Beware of such impostors. And purchase none but the original and only genuine article as prepared by Dr. Swayne, which is the only one founded by a regular Physician, and arose from many years' close attention to the practice of the profession, and which led to this great discovery. Thousands and tens of thousands of the best testimonials of the unparalleled success of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry for the cure of consumption, coughs, colds, spitting blood, liver complaint, tickling or rising in the throat, nervous debility, weakness of voice, palpitation or disease of the heart, pain in the side or breast, broken constitution from various causes, the abuse of calomel, &c., bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, &c., were declared to the world years before any other preparation of Wild Cherry came out. The most skeptical may satisfy themselves as to the truth of the above, by a little enquiry in Philadelphia.

The genuine article is prepared up by Dr. Swayne, whose office has been removed to W. corner of 8th and Race streets, Philadelphia. The Balsam and other spurious articles of Wild Cherry has been sold out, and the proprietors are obliged to resort to falsehood and stratagem to make their own out of it. The genuine article is put up in plain style in square bottles covered with a blue wrapper, with a yellow label with the proprietor's signature attached. To get the genuine in Wilmington, you must go to the only appointed agent,

WM. SHAW.
The public are requested to remember that it is Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, that has and is repeatedly performing such miraculous cures of diseases which have baffled the skill of the profession and set at defiance the whole catalogue of Patent Medicines, which are daily pulped through the organs of the press. Therefore ask for Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, and purchase no other.

Save your Corn Cobs and Shucks.
TO THE PLANTERS AND MILLERS OF NORTH CAROLINA.
THE UNDERSIGNED has obtained Letters Patent, to enable common Mill stones (or rocks) now in use, to grind CORN, COB and SHUCKS, into meal, for Horses, Mules, Cattle, Hogs, &c., thereby saving more than one third of a crop, which is an important item with planters. The machinery used for the above purpose is simple and durable, and cannot, with fair means, get out of order. It will last as long as the Stones last, with an expense of 50 cents every five years. To enable the common Mill Stones to grind ear corn into meal, requires no new buildings or extra power. It can also be applied to Horse Mills, Threshing Machines, &c., or any given power known. The same Mill will grind one-third more of Corn Meal by the introduction of this Machinery, and can be changed from grinding Corn and Cob, to grinding Corn Meal in the space of thirty seconds. Corn alone, when fed to stock, is said to be by the most practical and scientific Planters, constituting in its effects, producing founders, cholera and various other maladies which are incident to stock. Grinding cobs with the Corn, makes a food congenial with their nature, and cannot produce any of the serious results above mentioned. Stock, when fed on Corn exclusively, are deprived of the benefits of distension (so necessary to the proper health of animals) by their being unable to eat a sufficient bulk to produce distension before the animal becomes gorged. Cobs ground with the corn, produce the necessary distension, without any danger of disease arising from overeating. Corn and cob meal is improved by scalding, and still more by boiling, and yet more by a partial fermentation. All the preparations facilitate digestion for Hogs. But Horses and Mules will not eat fermented food, consequently they will require it dry or partially wet with cold water. Horses, Mules and Oxen, when fed with unground food, void much in an undigested state, which is of course lost for all beneficial purposes. Read the subjoined certificate.

The undersigned can be addressed at Raleigh, and all calls will be attended to punctually and with dispatch by himself or Agent.

CERTIFICATE.
Having been solicited by Maj. Collins to have my Mill adjusted to grind Corn in the Ear and Shuck, I consented that he should do so as an experiment; and I am able to say that it grinds Corn in the Shuck at the rate of 30 bushels per hour; and the dressing of the stones is so improved, that it grinds shelled Corn more than twice as fast as before, and by my watch, at the rate of 15 bushels per hour, and the meal finer than usual. I deem it a valuable improvement, and shall purchase the right to use it, as it will afford me a speedy way of feeding my horses and cattle, and save much thereby.

LIVERY STABLES.
SINCE my LIVERY STABLES were destroyed by fire in August last, I have erected on the same lot on Second st., and have now in use, another large, comfortable, and convenient lot of Stables, fully equal, if not superior to any in this State.

For the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon me by my friends and the public, I return my most grateful thanks; and hope by diligent and proper attention to my business, to insure a continuation of the same.

I have also a large dry and comfortable lot, with good Sheds, and comfortable Stalls, for the accommodation of drovers. All of which, are situated in the most public part of the town, and convenient for trade or business of any kind.
